

A Hinton dog has gained local popularity

BY REBECCA STALNAKER

One local dog has made it her mission to garner as much Kroger chicken as possible. The dog in question, Nymeriah, is seven years old, and according to her human mom Megan Bailey, she has been an escape artist since she was six months old.

Nymeriah is frequently featured in Facebook posts when someone new spots her out on one of her jaunts. While much of the community has become accustomed to seeing her in town, many are still surprised to see her hanging out in the Kroger parking lot.

According to Bailey, every time they think they have figured out how to keep her from escaping, the wily pooch finds a new way. Even a seven-foot fence could not stop the k9 Houdini. Bailey reminisced about the first time Nymeriah did a vanishing act.

“When she first started running away, I panicked because I was so scared someone was going to pick her up and take her. Then she didn’t come home, I was terrified she had gotten hit by a car or something. She finally showed back up that evening.”

After that initial escape, Nymeriah found a new love of heading to the river for a swim. According to Bailey, people would often spot her enjoying a brisk swim. Thus began her local celebrity status.

Now instead of the river, her favorite place to go is the Kroger parking lot. People often see her and mistake her for a stray. They try to lure her closer with bites of delicious Kroger chicken. Although more than the chicken, Baliey said, “She loves the attention from everyone. She goes around the neighborhood, meeting and visiting all the dogs.” These encounters often lead to new posts on the Summers County community Facebook pages wondering if she is lost. The posts have become so frequent that her family got her a bandana that says, “I’m not lost. Just here for the chicken.”

Despite Nymeriah’s antics, her humans love her dearly. Bailey said, “My favorite thing about her is that she has the sweetest little heart and knows how big of a pain in the butt she is, and she doesn’t care one bit.”

If you happen to spy

Nymeriah out on one of her adventures, she would love for you to say hi. However, don’t worry, she will go home to her family soon.

John Henry Historical Park electrical update project

BY MICHAEL CALES

The John Henry Historical Park’s electrical upgrade has now been completed. Upgrades included in the project were the removal of the existing power pedestal/telephone poles located in the viewshed of the stage/vendor’s area, relocated near the fence, transition of overhead to underground cable, vendors space receptacles relocated on newly installed telephone poles near the fence and an additional vendor space located near the future Welcome Center, and installation of eight additional floodlights.

This project was made possible through a National Coal Heritage Area grant and the Summers County Commissioners’ support.

The match for the grant was provided by in kind labor.

Local volunteers; Larry Moorman, Ronald Gore, Curtis Adkins, Rick Moorefield, and Michael Cales completed the work. Often utilizing their own resources to ensure that the work performed was done in an efficient and timely manner. Other behind the scene contributors were Linda Huffman who provided a delicious lunch, Dolores Moorman for the world’s best peanut butter fudge and last but not least Jerollee Cales for the wonderful cookies, pies and tuna fish salad.

New program launches to provide kids with fresh food

BY REBECCA STALNAKER

The West Virginia University Extension Family Nutrition Program has introduced a new program, Kids Market @ The Store. Participating families receive a market bag, “passport,” and special tokens worth $30 that children can spend on produce.

Before expanding to 15 counties, this new program launched in only two areas last year. The pilot program began in Wirt and Calhoun counties.

According to a recent press release, over 3,300 children signed up for the Kids Market @ The Store program. The press release further states that this number is more than double the anticipated number of participants. The program has received funding for 100 families and hopes to garner additional funding.

Each child receives a passport where they will be able to track which fruits and veggies they have tried. They also get a bag to carry their purchases. Each week, participating retailers stock a designated stand with available produce. Kids then pick out what they want and use their tokens to pay for the purchase. Store staff will then place a sticker in the passport. At the end of the program, children can mail in their passports for WVU-branded prizes.

Children in Summers County who participated in the Kids Market @ The Store program have three locations to shop. Sprouting Farms in Talcott and both Adams Gotta Stop locations are participating.

For more information about the new program, email ext-fnp@mail.wvu.edu.

In the Library

BY AUSTIN PERSINGER

And just like that, summer is upon us. In Library-land that means it is time for Summer Reading. Most libraries have a summer reading program to help keep kids engaged with reading while on summer break. When we fall out of practice with reading, like anything, we get rusty. Educators refer to this as summer slide. Students that keep practicing reading all summer long find it easier to get back into the swing of school in the fall.

Our 2022 Summer Reading Challenge is called Wild About Reading featuring fun tales and activities about animals. We have a goal to read 900 books so we need a lot of help. To register go to: summerscolibrary.readsquared.com or download the ReadSquared app.

Register for a new account (even if you had one last year)

If using the app, search for Summers County Public Library

If you are only registering one child, select “Myself Only” and create the account with the child’s information. If you are registering multiple children select “Myself and Other Readers”

You only need to create one username/password even if registering multiple children

Start your reading adventure!

We have fun things going on in and out of the Library to celebrate our reading challenge.

Storytime - Tuesdays in June and July we will be telling stories in the Town Square Park (across from Big 4) beginning at 1:00 PM.

Fun Fri-yay! Fridays in June and July in the Library. Drop in anytime between 1:00 and 3:00 for a fun family activity.

Wednesday, July 27 Three Rivers Avian Center brings the Birds of Prey at 1:00 PM. It is always interesting to see these raptors up close and you won’t want to miss this opportunity.

Not Summer Reading related, but a fun Library program I’d like to mention is Terrific Tuesdays in Town Square Park. We’ll be set up from 11:00-1:00. Come enjoy the grassy lawn, listen to music, chat with your neighbors, make public art, and/or take a free juggling lesson. If you’d like bring a lunch, a chair, or a Frisbee and enjoy your neighborhood.

ROYAL STARS HOROSCOPE

BY GEORGIA NICOLS

MOON ALERT: Avoid shopping or important decisions from 8 a.m. to noon EDT today (5 a.m. to 9 a.m. PDT). After that, the Moon moves from Virgo into Libra.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, June 8, 2022:

You are passionate and eager about life! You are an entertaining storyteller who loves a challenge. You are versatile and interested in everything. This year is slower-paced. It's time to rest and focus on your closest relationships. Take time to figure out what makes you happy.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so;

1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
4★ This is a marvelous, productive day for you. (Do get out of bed.) You're full of moneymaking ideas and ways to promote your earnings. Co-workers might help you. You also might see new uses for something that you own. This is a strong day for you! Tonight: Be cooperative.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
5★ This is a powerful day for Earth signs in particular (Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn). You will enjoy social outings as well as sports events and playful activities with children. Because you're in a creative frame of mind, you might see ways to put a new spin on something. Tonight: Get organized.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
4★ Use today's energy to do research or look for answers to old problems or solutions to bothersome situations. You will likely be successful. Plus, with the Sun in your sign, things will tend to go your way and people are likely to help you. Tonight: Socialize.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
4★ You will be powerful today when talking to others, especially friends and groups, or in meetings or classes. People will listen to you because you will speak with confidence and authority. Nevertheless, later in the day, you might choose to "hide" at home. Tonight: Co-coon.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
4★ Today, especially this morning, is a strong time for you to speak to bosses, parents and authority figures about what you want, because they will listen to you. Admittedly, they, too, will be very direct in their communications. You might see ways to improve your job or your health. Tonight: Study and learn.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
5★ Today begins with the Moon in your sign dancing powerfully with Mercury and Pluto. Even after the Moon changes signs, you will still be in the zone to make things happen, especially financially or regarding making travel plans and studying. It's a good day to get things done! Tonight: Money ideas?

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
5★ Today you have some excellent ideas about how to use the resources of others, including the government, banks or your partner's assets, to make improvements at home or in your personal life. After the Moon moves into your sign, you will be more empowered to go after what you want. Tonight: You win!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
4★ Expect to have dynamic conversations with others today -- your friends, partners, spouses and even members of the general public. You will express yourself forcefully, and so will they. Hopefully, this will be in the interests of getting things done. Tonight: Enjoy privacy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
4★ This is a good day to focus on how to improve your job, your health or even how you take care of your pet. Look for ways to do things better, because, let's face it, there is no end to "better." There is always room for improvement. Tonight: Schmooze!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
5★ Today you are in an exploratory frame of mind. You want to test new ideas and discover new ways of thinking. Later in the day, you might find yourself in the public eye more than usual. Perhaps people know certain details about your private life. Tonight: You are noticed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
4★ Family discussions and plans for home repairs will be successful today. The support and resources that you need will be there. And later in the day, you might try a new approach to something -- perhaps a different way of doing things. Tonight: Explore!

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
3★ This is a busy, productive day for you. Short trips, errands and appointments will flow smoothly. Admittedly, during the Moon Alert, you might encounter a few speed bumps or delays. Nevertheless, you will be very convincing when talking to others today. Tonight: Check your finances.
