In a time and place when divisiveness has run amok, essayist, executive and critic-at-large Art Callaham focuses on the one thing that still unites us all: our citizenship. In his new book 'On America," Callaham reflects on the common values and shared experiences of those who have loved, laughed, cried and served in the land we call home.

In 46 vignettes arranged in sections devoted to family, friends, war and peace, and country, Callaham shares views developed over a lifetime of work and service to his country, state, town and community. City of Hinton gives update on 17th Ave. culvert collapse

In a recent statement, the City of Hinton noted that they are working closely with the State Department of Highways office regarding the 17th Ave. culvert collapse. According to the statement, DOH is performing core drillings to test the soil strength and composition in the area.

Additionally, the City is reportedly working towards removing the building from the area to aid DOH in making the necessary repairs.

The City asks for residents' patience as work continues, noting that the project has the potential to be a long process as the team determines the best solutions. The statement goes on to say that DOH has already lined the old culvert to the best of its abilities and stabilized the road.

SCEMS saves lives with new equipment

In April of this year, the Summers County Emergency Medical Service (SCEMS) was awarded $90,000 in ARP funding from the Summers County Commission. With that funding and approximately $12,000 of their own funding, SCEMS purchased six monitor/defibrillator devices to be part of the equipment for each of their six trucks. These devices provide an advanced diagnosis of heart-related conditions. The units have two batteries and can print waveform capture on-scene. Since the arrival of those units, SCEMS has been able to save the lives of four Summers County individuals in massive heart attack situations. Paramedic Nick Crewey said they have proven to be life-saving devices and are "worth every penny." Commissioner Ted Kula ex-

One arrested on drug related charges

BY REBECCA STALNAKER

During the early morning hours of Sunday, September 25, police officers responded to a call regarding two individuals who were allegedly passed out in a vehicle. The incident ended with the arrest of one person, Tasha Pack, 39, of Pipestem.

According to the criminal complaint, police arrived and identified both individuals. Pack was the passenger. An investigation took place, which revealed a brown substance believed to be fentanyl in the pocket of a woman's jacket. Additionally, the criminal complaint states that several small plastic bags and a digital scale were in the vehicle. The scale was reportedly in a bag on the passenger side of the vehicle.

Pack was booked in Southern Regional Jail to await arraignment in magistrate court. At the time of writing, she is no longer in SRJ.

It is time for me to again ask you to allow me to continue to represent you in the Legislature. You have placed your trust in me for the past ten years and for that I am grateful and humbled. Much has been done to move West Virginia in the right direction in those ten years; however, there is much yet to do. In the coming weeks I intend to highlight what you have helped me be a part of. I will also outline what I feel is necessary to keep our wonderful state and district on an upward trend.

West Virginia and the new 40th delegate district have a bright future and I hope you will allow me to sit in your seat in the House of Delegates as we continue to move forward.

I need to hear from you and can be reached at these numbers: (304) 466-5523 or (304) 646-1209.

Greetings to all citizens of Summers County! I am Joe Blankenship and wanted to take this opportunity to let you know I am a candidate for Summers County Commission.

I have served 16 years in public office. I was your 3 term Mayor in the great City of Hinton and served on the Board of Education for 5 years. You might ask: is that not long enough? After being away from public office the last two years, I have realized how much I miss the opportunity of helping you and making a difference in our community. As a lifelong resident of our beautiful community, I have always felt the need to serve you and our precious children. As a young adult and after playing sports throughout my school years, I felt the need to continue to help create integrity and strength of character in our children. I have promoted and coached all sports from Little League to basketball to baseball and football at all levels. Doing this has given me a great sense of satisfaction and helped me while helping kids in a small community.

Leadership is very important in serving the public. I believe the commission must have absolute beneficial relationships with all government bodies in our county and in Charleston. The commission can't solve or answer all problems that an individual may have but should be able to give insight on how help could be found. Many of you have expressed issues and concerns to me about your way of life, your neighbors, and your community. I will address some of your concerns now, and as we continue in this campaign, I will give you my thoughts on how we may help ease your problems. First, I am against any zoning that would cause our homeowners any undue costs, delays, or cumbersome changes, and I value protection of all home and landowners. I am for funding availability to strengthen law enforcement in our county. Your protection and our officers having the resources to offer you the best service possible is the highest priority. I am for much needed Internet services county wide, so all children and parents have access for a quality education and the ability to work from home. Forest Hill, Madams Creek, and several other communities in our county deserve water utility. If elected, I will pledge to work diligently to provide this service to each and every one of you in need. Economic Development never stops and provides the driving force for business development and people relocating to our area. The more services we provide helps entice new business and relocations thus provides a larger tax base. Infrastructure and accessible roads, from both urban and rural areas, should be a priority for working with state and federal agencies to obtain funding for these improvements.

This is just a few of many thoughts I have to continue the good work of all commissioners past and present, but we can certainly do more.

No article about my positions would be complete without giving kudos to all offices, agencies, Fire Departments, 911 Center, Health Department, Senior Center, REACH, Summers County ARH, Summers County Schools, and many more that provide daily services to improve our way of living.

No elected office comes without dealing with budgets and being fiscally responsible. I would hope my 36 years of banking experience and other elected offices gives me a unique qualification to understand and use money the best we can to serve our responsibilities.

So, I certainly believe no one or no government entity can solve all our problems; however, they can certainly address them until a solution may arise.

I was born in my beloved Summers County. I raised my family here and only hope to keep serving all of you, if given a chance.

Thank you for your time and hopefully support.

Sen. Baldwin leads Family Treatment Court panel at Healing Appalachia

LEWISBURG, W.Va. (Hinton News) -Senate Minority Leader Stephen Baldwin moderated a panel discussion on Fayette County's Family Treatment Court during day two of the Healing Appalachia event, which was held on the grounds of the State Fair of West Virginia

Healing Appalachia is an annual fundraising event produced by the non-profit Hope in the Hills, LLC. It brings awareness to substance abuse disorders, celebrates recovery, and works to create more projects "fostering communities of recovery." More than 100,000 Americans died as the result of a drug overdose in 2021, and West Virginia continues to suffer the highest rate of overdose death in the nation.

"This epidemic is ravaging our state," said Baldwin. "We must all come together to help end this once and for

"I was proud to once again be a part of Healing Appalachia," Baldwin continued. "Too often I hear from those who struggle with substance abuse disorder. Events like Healing Appalachia let people know they are not alone and that their community is supportive of their continued recovery. I was also honored to lead a panel during this event to bring awareness to the Fayette County Treatment Court."

Fayette County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Ewing and Fayette County Family Treatment Coordinator Heather Lucas also served as panelists during the event. Alyssa Berry, a Family Treatment Court graduate who now works as Parent Resource Navigator in Fayette County, also joined the discussion. "The Family Treatment Courts - and specifically the Family Treatment Court in Fayette County - [are] doing some exciting, effective new things for folks here in West Virginia, and are positively impacting people's lives,^{*} Sen. Baldwin told the several thousand in attendance. Judge Ewing said, "Family Treatment Court is what we call a 'problem solving court,' and the problem that Family Treatment Court is designed to fix is substance abuse."

"When it's all said and done, they've (program enrollees) built a different life for themselves," Ewing added. "It's a change program. That's what it is - it's all about change."

coordinator Program Heather Lucas then spoke about the recovery process, saying, "The recovery for each [individual] is a little different."

"When our participants who are there by choice - allow themselves to be transparent, they create their own then learn how to be a parroadmap and timeframe," Lucas continued. "Everybody's puzzle looks differ-

"We have close relation-Ewing explained that a ships with them," Lucas noted. "Every single day we have contact.'

Alyssa Berry, the day's final panelist, then spoke about her experience as a Family Treatment Court enrollee.

"I wanted to do it because, (Child Protective Services) case, Family Treatment Court gave me the opportunity to learn and grow with my kids and be able to see them more," Berry said. "[It allowed me to] really work on my recovery in a way that works best for me."

"One of the biggest challenges was trying to just focus on my recovery," Berry added. "Knowing that my children were being taken care of, but just trying to get to the point where I was okay in my recovery, and ent. Family Treatment Court gave me that opportunity."

Since her graduation from ent. When we try a piece that the program, Berry has been doesn't fit, we try something working primarily with par-

Including Fayette County, 11 circuit courts currently maintain a Family Treatment Court in West Virginia. Ohio County (1st Circuit); Marshall, Tyler, Wetzel counties (2nd Circuit); Wood County (4th Circuit); Roane, Calhoun counties (5th Circuit); Logan County (7th Circuit); McDowell County (8th Circuit); Kanawha County (13th Circuit); Randolph County (20th Circuit); Boone County (25th Circuit); Nicholas County (28th Circuit).

NOTICE OF FILING AND HEARING

On July 29, 2022, Mountaineer Gas Company (Mountaineer) filed its annual Application for approval of an Infrastructure Replacement and Expansion Program for 2023 (2023 IREP) with revised IREP rates for 2023, pursuant to W. Va. Code § 24-2-1k, which authorizes the Public Service Commission of West Virginia to approve cost recovery of projects to replace, upgrade and expand natural gas utility infrastructure that are deemed to be just and reasonable and in the public interest.

In its Application, Mountaineer forecasts capital investment for calendar year 2023 of $64.2 million as part of its multi-year plan. The 2023 IREP covers several categories of plant asset replacements and improvements, including mains, service lines, measurement and regulator stations, and house regulators. These plant investments are proposed to be made in Mountaineer service territories throughout the State. These investments are identified in the Application, which is on file and available for public inspection at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia and which may be viewed on the Commission's website, www. psc.state.wv.us.

Mountaineer proposes to recover costs associated with these investments through an additional increment within the fixed or volumetric base rate component of its rates, depending on the applicable rate schedule under which service is rendered, to be effective on January 1, 2023. Mountaineer projects that if the program and rate increase are approved as requested, the average monthly bill for its various classes of customers will be changed on January 1, 2023 as follows:

Mountaineer Gas Company — Proposed
$ INCREASE	% INCREASE
$1.56	2.15%
$4.44	1.50%
$204.93	0.36%
$302.96	0.68%
$50.40	1.17%
	$ INCREASE $1.56 $4.44 $204.93 $302.96

(*) - Increases for Large Commercial and Industrial customers assume transport customers purchase their natural gas at the same price as the Company's Purchased Gas Adjustment rate.

The increases shown above are compared to the rates currently in place and are based on averages of all customers in the indicated class. Each class may receive an increase greater or less than stated here. Individual customers may receive increases that are greater or less than average. Furthermore, the requested rates and charges are only a proposal and are subject to change (increase or decrease) by the Public Service Commission in its review of this filing. Any increase in rates and charges will not become effective until authorized and approved by the Public Service Commission

The Commission set a procedural schedule, including a hearing date on the Application, if necessary, that will begin at 9:30 a.m., on November 17, 2022, continuing on November 18, 2022, at 9:30 a.m., if necessary, in the Howard M. Cunningham Hearing Room at the Commission's offices at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, West Virginia.
