Library program passes a big anniversary

Myra Ziegler

HINTON, (Hinton News) - It was in April of 1998 that a group of book lovers gathered at the Summers County Public Library to discuss Cold Mountain by Charles Frazier thus starting a program that has met once a month ever since then to talk about books. This past April (2023), the group met to discuss Demon Copperhead by Barbara Kingsolver. It is fitting that these two award-winning historical novels should bracket all those years of reading and talking about books. And although not all the group members are the same as those who came to the first meeting, the discussion of Demon was as stimulating and lively as the one for Cold Mountain all those years ago. The anniversary of this longstanding Library program was not the only April milestone worth noting at the Library. On April 21, the Friends of the Library held its most successful Salad Luncheon fundraiser ever! It took a lot of effort on the part of many, many people to pull that off. Heartfelt thanks go to all the folks who worked so hard - those who called and solicited salads and cakes, who delivered order forms, took orders, set up tables, made salads and/or cakes, took up money, delivered lunches all over the county, cleaned up and who knows what all else that I have forgotten to mention. After expenses, we raised $1,396.89!!! These funds will be given to the Board of Library Directors who are in charge of library finances to be used for such things as supporting programs like the Book Discussion Group or to help cover extraordinary expenses such as some much-needed maintenance on the library building. If you would like to be involved either with fundraising or with some of the other volunteer tasks that help keep the Library going, stop by or call the Library and leave your name and contact information. We will add you to the Friends contact list and let you know what is coming up that you might enjoy helping with. If you are interested in participating in the Library's book discussion group or any of the other programs offered by the Library, you can find out all about them on the Library's website at www.summerscountylibrary.org. And mark your calendars. The next Friends of the Library project will be the Annual Library Golf

Front view of the Summers County Library

Tournament to be held all your golfing buddies at the Willow Wood Golf and come on out for a day Course on June 25. Pol- of fun and help support a ish up your clubs, invite good cause.

Woman arrested after child struck by vehicle in Bellepoint Park

Rebecca Stalnaker

HINTON, (Hinton News) - Officers responded to a call in Bellepoint Park for reports of a child struck by a vehicle on Thursday, May 11. Following an investigation, officers arrested Elizabeth Kathleen Oliveros, 39, of Hinton. According to the criminal complaint, Oliveros allegedly told officers she was leaving the park and hit a child. Reportedly, she also stated that she did not see the child or know she had struck them until another individual, later identified as the child's grandmother, came out waving their arms. The victim reportedly sustained several injuries, including cuts, abrasions and a possible fracture, according to the criminal complaint. Additionally, the victim was taken to Summers County ARH for care. As detailed in the criminal complaint, officers asked Oliveros if she had been drinking or taking any substances, to which she allegedly replied that she had taken suboxone and smoked weed every day. Officers proceeded to direct Oliveros in multiple field sobriety tests. The complaint states that she showed impairment during each one. After concluding the field sobriety tests, officers inquired about her driving record. Reportedly, her license is suspended with two prior convictions from 2011. Oliveros was subsequently arrested and booked into Southern Regional Jail. At the time of writing, she remains in SRJ. Her bail has been set at $21,500.

GEAR UP SWV offers on-demand academic support at home

Athens, W.Va. (Hinton news) - Parents/guardians will soon have a new tool to help sixth and seventh graders in the region to complete homework, study new topics, and more. The GEAR UP SWV cohort will soon have access to these online academic resources through a service called Tutor.com. Tutor.com connects learners with qualified, expert tutors—online on demand, 24/7. GEAR UP SWV cohort can connect for 1-to-1 help in more than 200 academic subjects and test preparation areas; they can also utilize drop-off writing review (with detailed feedback provided within 12 hours), along with self-guided test prep from The Princeton Review®.

Tutor.com will be available to current sixth- and seventh-grade students in Mercer, Monroe, Raleigh, Summers, and Wyoming Counties. As part of the GEAR UP SWV cohort, these same students will have access to Tutor.com through high school graduation, or for about the next six years.

“There’s a variety of ways that the GEAR UP Southern West Virginia cohort, students, teachers, parents, guardians, and even our staff, can use Tutor.com,” Kristen O’Sullivan, GEAR UP SWV Director said. “Having grown up in southern West Virginia, I imagine the advantages of having on-demand tutoring. The difference that would have made for me as a student, and later as a mom, is immense. To have assistance right at your fingertips will be such an incredible resource for our GEAR UP SWV families!”

Tutor.com is one tool that will help students graduate from high school, increase academic performance, and prepare for college. The college-going rate in West Virginia has fallen almost 10 percentage points over the last 10 years, and according to research provided by the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission, southern West Virginia rates tend to be lower than the state average, which is now 46.4 percent. In this critical time, programs like GEAR UP SWV are crucial to serving the needs of our region.

Parents/guardians will receive a permission slip in the mail this month. Students will have access after parents/guardians return the signed permission slips in self-addressed, postage paid envelopes. Parents/guardians are asked to return the signed permission slips before the end of the school year. GEAR UP SWV is part of a grant program provided by the U.S. Department of Education. More information is available at concord.edu/gearup.

ROYAL STARS HOROSCOPE

BY GEORGIA NICOLS

MOON ALERT: Avoid shopping or important decisions from 5 a.m. to 11 a.m. EDT today (2 a.m. to 8 a.m. PDT). After that, the Moon moves from Cancer to Leo.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, May 24, 2023:

You are curious, clever and interested in everything. You're also interested in people, which is why you like to be up on whatever is happening around you. Take inventory of your life this year. It's time to let go of people, places and things that have held you back.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

3★ It's important to remember that patience is the antidote to anger, especially on a day like today. Sports events, romantic relationships and parents' relationships with their kids are classic areas where it's easy to lose it. Be patient. Tonight: Relax.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

2★ Despite the chaos and increased activity on the homefront, take a deep breath and think of the best way to handle dealing with family, relatives and whatever is going on at home. Be calm; you need yourself as a resource. Tonight: Stay mellow.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

3★ Avoid offensive arguments with others. You might be coming on too strong, or you might attract someone who is coming on too strong to you. Either way, no one is happy with this. Deflect your energy elsewhere. Find a bright, shiny object. Tonight: Be calm.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

3★ By nature, you're thrifty. This might be why you are upset about financial matters today or, possibly, how something is shared or divided. Or perhaps it's about something that you own. Take a deep breath to get perspective on this. How can you reach your objective? Tonight: Clean your possessions.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

2★ Here's the deal: Fiery Mars in your sign makes you aggressive. Meanwhile, back at the ranch, there's a lot of energy happening in Taurus, which is at odds with Mars. This is why dealings with parents, bosses and the police are challenging. Keep your cool. Tonight: A solution.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

3★ You have a lot of opinions right now. Obviously, it's OK to have opinions. What's not OK is if you want to coerce others into agreeing with your ideas. You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him froth a latte. Tonight: Solitude.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

2★ Challenging situations with your kids, friends and clubs are likely today. In fact, so many people are at odds with each other today, it's as if there were angry spores in the air. Pull in your reins. Keep your head down and your powder dry. Tonight: Be friendly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

2★ This is a poor day to insist on getting your way with bosses, parents, teachers and the police. If you make an attempt to do this, everything will dissolve into a nasty battle of egos. Instead, go somewhere else. Do something different. Enjoy the scenery. Tonight: Demonstrate grace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

3★ Steer clear of controversial subjects today (although this will be challenging), because you will gain nothing, because you will get into a nasty argument with someone. And you need that like a fish needs a bicycle. In fact, you can make great headway at work today if you maintain a positive attitude. Tonight: Learn.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

2★ Power struggles about inheritances, shared property, loans, mortgages or insurance issues could be nasty today. If possible, table these discussions for another day when things are not so sensitive and the situation is less volatile. Timing is everything. You gotta know when to hold and when to fold. Tonight: Check banking details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

2★ This is a challenging day for you, because you might find yourself at odds with partners and close friends. (Almost, right off the bat.) Hey, you don't need this, and neither do they. Agree to sit this one out simply because this is a poor day to reach an agreement about anything. Tonight: Be understanding.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

3★ Avoid squabbles with co-workers today. Likewise, avoid fights with someone about your pet or your health. These are all things you can talk about another day when the situation is less volatile. Instead, do something to please yourself. Lighten up. Tonight: Work.

A peek into Summers County’s past: Rose’s Pharmacy

Rebecca Stalnaker and William Jones

HINTON, (Hinton News) - It is time for another edition of A Peek into Summers County’s Past. Every week, local history collector William Jones talks about pieces from his extensive collection and their historical significance. In this edition, we are discussing Rose’s Pharmacy, which once operated in Summers County. Jones has provided some photos for reference.

To begin, Jones notes some of the businesses that have and continue to exist in Hinton. He said, “For a small town, geographically speaking, Hinton has had its share of pharmacies throughout the years. There were, and are, large chain pharmacies such as Rite Aid, which is now Walgreens, and the pharmacy in Kroger grocery store. Then there is Big Four Drug Store, the only privately owned pharmacy still in Hinton today. Additionally, there was Butlers Pharmacy in Bellpoint on Greenbrier Drive across from Jarrells Exxon, that was in operation for 26 years. Creed Pharmacy on Temple Street. Pucket Brothers pharmacy on 2nd Avenue, where Rivertown is now, more commonly known as just Puckets. Then there was Rose’s Pharmacy on the corner of Temple Street and 3rd Avenue. It burned in 1983 and is now the town square during events such as Railroad Days.”

Speaking specifically about the pharmacy on Temple and 3rd, Jones said, “It is just a coincidence that Hinton has had two stores by the name of Rose’s. Roses Discount Store that opened in the old Magic Mart building in 2022, and the other was in the early 1900s. A man by the name of Shane Rose organized, opened and ran Rose’s Drug Store in downtown Hinton across from the Hinton Hospital at that time. The early photos of the interior show quite an elaborate store. With a huge counter for a soda fountain with room to seat six or more people. The bar behind the counter had marble columns that were most likely purchased from Hinton Marble Works when Rose’s first opened. Mr. Rose had quite the knack for advertising his drug store.”

“From a very theatrical looking Model-T that was driven around town to showcase what the store had to offer, he also had plain trucks with ‘Get It At Rose’s’ painted on the sides of them that were driven around town advertising his store,” Jones said. “He painted his ads on the sides of barns and outbuildings, much like the famous Mail Pouch Tobacco advertising gimmick where they painted their slogan on the sides of barns throughout the United States, adding up to over 20,000 Mail Pouch Tobacco barns across 22 states.”

While Rose’s advertising did not quite reach the level of the Mail Pouch Tobacco project, it did well. Jones said, “Mr. Rose’s advertising campaign didn’t quite reach this scale, but was obviously successful nonetheless. There are numerous early photos of his slogan ‘Get It At Rose’s Ask About NYAL’S Remedies’ painted on what I now call ‘pharmacy barns’ in Summers County in the early 1900s. I had forgotten that I had this photo of yet another advertising stunt that Mr. Rose did around that same time until I was going through my vast collection last week.”

Jones concluded by saying, “It is a cart/float that was built to look like a trolley car. It appears to be built around two bicycles. This was most likely done to carry the weight of the contraption so the others in it would be able to more freely walk inside of it. Along with Mr. Rose’s well established and used slogan for his business he also advertised ‘Free Deliveries’ on this trolley as well. It is obvious that he did whatever it took to be a ‘game leader’ in his chosen field at the time. Which from the numerous early photos of Rose’s Drug Store I have seen over the years paid off for him. But this is the only photo I have ever come across that showed his use of this contraption.”

This brings us to the end of another edition of A Peek into Summers County’s Past. Did you know about Rose’s Pharmacy and all of its advertising gimmicks? Be sure to come back next week to see another look at the history of the area.

Do you have a story from Summers County’s past that you would like to share? Send us an email at news@hinton-news@com.
