BLUESTONE LAKE (Hinton News) - An Almost Heaven Swing has been placed overlooking Bluestone Lake. According to a press release from the Explore Summers County CVB, the project stems from a "partnership with the West Virginia Department of Tourism, West Virginia State Parks, Explore Summers County CVB, and the US Army Corps of Engineers." The swing was officially hung on Thursday, May 25.

Students at the Nicholas County Career and Technical Center built the swings. The West Virginia Department of Tourism initially partnered with the students to create nine wooden swings, the first of which was erected in 2022. They are placed around the state in strategic locations.

The new installment sits in Bluestone State Park at the end of Lilly Bridge. A wooden cutout of the state sits in front of the swing; it is equipped with a phone holder to facilitate selfies. Photos taken from this spot will feature the lake and mountains in the background, adding the Mountain State's beauty to every picture.

Rebecca Peterson, Executive Director for Explore Summers County, stated, "The swings were offered through the WV Department of Tourism's Co-Op advertising program, and we were thrilled to add it to the cart!"

According to Assistant Park Superintendent, Jessica Stoner, Pipestem will also get an Almost Heaven Swing in the near future.

Multiple local officials were in attendance at the hanging of the swing. The list included: The Superintendent of Bluestone State Park, Frank Ratcliffe, and Assistant Superintendent Jessica Stoner; Bluestone State Park Maintenance Crew and Bluestone State Park Lifeguards; Senator Jack David Woodrum, Summers County Commissioners Charles Saunders and Mike Gore; Treasurer for Explore Summers County CVB Cleo Mathews, and Executive Director of Explore Summers County CVB Rebecca Peterson.

SCCOA gets funding for ramp repairs

HINTON, (Hinton News) - West Virginia Senator Jack Woodrum presented a check to Summers County Council on Aging Executive (SCCOA) Director Cindy Garrett on Thursday, May 25. The center will use the funds to repair the entrance ramp. According to SCCOA Executive Director Cindy Garrett, this renovation project is vital. Unfortunately, the ramp, which is the main entrance, has begun to deteriorate. Should the problem worsen, it would be detrimental to the center's operation and pose a safety risk. The center provides daily meals, activities, shopping trips, and other services to area seniors. Garrett said, "We have probably 25 people at least a day coming here." While the pandemic affected daily operations, Garrett noted that they are now getting built back up. Speaking about the funding, Garrett said, "It's a tremendous thing to be able to get this and not have to worry about getting it done. [We] can get it done quickly now."

When asked about the funding, Senator Woodrum stated, "We have an account set up in the senate and in the house to work with some community projects. This money goes through ... all the way to the governors office for approval. We were fortunate to be able to get [the funds] approved for the project at the senior center."

Garrett noted that the project will likely begin around the end of June and last through most of the summer. While the repairs are ongoing, patrons and staff will use the back entrance. To learn more about SCCOA's services or how to support the center, call 304-466-4019.

Letter to the Editor: Consequences of AI software on senior citizen's internet payments

Dear Editor,

My experience with Banks, Health Care, and internet payment systems has caused several costly errors applied to me due to "Artificial Intelligence" (AI).

Tech-savvy Coders have verbalized dissatisfaction with AI since it was in its infancy. The same experience came as I was trying to purchase a product on a website payment module. The module would not accept payment, so I called the order line and purchased the product on the telephone. A few days later, I received a call accusing me of non-payment of the product that had been shipped.

This experience happened to a health bill my wife took care of on the phone. She gave the lady my insurance information. The next thing was an accusation of non-payment on the invoice. After sending all my insurance information and the payment on the phone, they believed AI and sent the bill to a collection agency. I sent them the data, and they listed it on my credit report as a non-payment on a credit card. AI caused me to lose hope of getting credit as the Credit cards closed several accounts and made them inactive due to AI information.

An experience with my Bank cost me aggravation concerning returning Checks even though there were several thousand dollars in savings. I had set up a stopgap for non-payment when money in savings could cover it in 2000.

The Bank set up AI during the pandemic, changing all the coding on the website. It caused lockups and confusion; they even listed Central Time on the site. Seniors and Smartphone users need to be aware of the mistakes that can happen with AI. We must be vigilant with our business because AI is only as intelligent as coding and data input.

I started coding in Cobal in the 80s; the coding had to be precise, and the program cards had to be exact. Today coding is loose, and programs can be set to the side like subroutines.

They often trip over their feet and fall into the wrong subroutine. Unfortunately, this causes users to get hit in the pocket.

Another thing AI does is called a data dump. I was dumped into all users with the same last name. That dump caused me to be delinquent on money as well as one man was in prison for murder, and my insurance was canceled. How can a man ask for insurance for a car when he is in prison AI can't reason, it can only provide data, whether the data is right or wrong without reason.

This rant is an example of the consequences of AI. What upsets me is AI anticipating my texting and coming up with absurd guesses as to what I am thinking.

AI is bad enough for the younger citizens but can be divesting to senior citizens unfamiliar with what is happening to our system and how it works. Kids, you need to help them out rather than sit and laugh. They have been dumped into a situation like returning to School to survive.

Research and discover what is happening to our survival due to AI.

Ouachita recognizes Hinton graduate during Commencement exercises May 13

Felley Lawson

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (Hinton News) — Ouachita Baptist University honored more than 400 students, including Mason Campbell of Hinton, during its 136th Spring Commencement on Saturday, May 13, on the front lawn of Cone-Bottoms Hall. Campbell graduated summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Christian studies/biblical studies & theology.

Graduates earned Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Music Education and Bachelor of Fine Arts degrees, as well as Master of Science degrees, post-baccalaureate certificates for Dietetic Internship and the university's first Master of Education degrees in curriculum & instruction and Master of Science degrees in nutrition.

In keeping with Ouachita tradition, the Commencement address was delivered by Dr. Ben Sells, Ouachita president, who also led Commencement exercises. He encouraged graduates to know the importance of humility, foster character and nourish hope in pursuit of the goal of being lifelong learners.

"I believe you are more likely to flourish and excel in every area of life if you commit to be a learner no matter how much you come to know," said Sells. "Knowers, assuming they have arrived, draw only on what they have learned. Learners, on the other hand, never stop learning. They continue to adjust, adapt and add to their advantages."

"Based on what your predecessors report, your Ouachita education and experience have prepared you exceedingly well," he added. "The investment in you by faculty and staff, the support of your family and classmates, the time and effort you have put forward and the grace of God help you go from this place with an advantage. The better you steward it, the more opportunity it will provide."

Students recognized during the ceremony included those who completed their degree requirements in August 2022, December 2022 and May 2023. Collectively, they earned the highest number of degrees conferred by Ouachita in more than 40 years. Of 187 honor graduates, 30 achieved a 4.0 GPA.

Candidates for graduation were presented by Dr. Justin Hardin, vice president for academic affairs. Dr. Jim Files, associate professor of accounting and chair of the university committee, served as Commencement marshal. Honorary marshals were retiring faculty members, Janice Ford, professor emerita of library services; Dr. Ray Franklin, professor emeritus of Christian missions; Dr. Timothy E. Hayes, professor emeritus of chemistry; and Dr. Michael E. Reynolds, professor emeritus of kinesiology.

Senior Class President Kallen Smith, a biomedical sciences major from Jonesboro, Ark., delivered the invocation. Scripture was read by Mason Campbell, a Christian studies/biblical studies & theology major from Hinton, W.V.; Ashton Hurst, a psychology and Christian studies/biblical studies & theology double major from Van Buren, Ark.; Alex Moore, a philosophy & English double major from Gulfport, Miss.; Angela Staats, a Christian studies/Christian missions major from Oklahoma City, Okla.; Hannah Tullis, a Christian studies/biblical studies & theology major from Paris, Texas; and Wade Wilson, a Christian studies/biblical studies & theology major from Springdale, Ark. All were students in the Pruet School of Christian Studies.

Sells conferred degrees upon the graduates, including an honorary degree conferred posthumously upon Clark Yarbrough, a senior from Rowlett, Texas, who died unexpectedly in the fall. He also recognized four graduates who were commissioned as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army: Chase Howerton, a nutrition & dietetics and military science double major from Rockwall, Texas; Trey Lamb, a biology major from Austin, Ark.; Joe Ragsdell, a kinesiology/recreation & sports administration major from Columbia, Mo.; and Alex Thyges, a business administration/entrepreneurship major from Conroe, Texas.

Ouachita Baptist University, a private liberal arts university in Arkadelphia, Ark., is in its 137th year as a Christ-centered learning community and is ranked nationally by U.S. News & World Report. CAMC, (Hinton News) - CAMC Interventional Radiology has introduced cryoablation, a new minimally invasive procedure to treat cancer through a needle.

Amy Deipolyi, MD, PhD, FSIR, Director of CAMC Interventional Radiology, recently performed CAMC's first CT-guided cryoablation and cementoplasty for a painful bone metastasis that had prevented the patient from walking. The team is proud to offer minimally invasive procedures to fight cancer and help reduce patients' pain.

Cryoablation uses extreme cold to destroy cancerous tissue. For many patients with smaller cancerous masses involving the kidney or lungs, cryoablation can yield excellent results.

Compared to more common methods of treatment like surgery, cryoablation is significantly less invasive and has been shown to effectively destroy targeted tissues while maintaining the patient's quality of life.

During the procedure, the patient is placed under anesthesia, and one or more needles are inserted through the skin into the tumor. Ice is created at the needle tip by delivering argon gas under pressure through the needle shaft. The size and shape of the ice ball is controlled by the physician, who can closely monitor the ice zone under imaging technology.

Cryoablation can also be used to palliate painful bone metastases. Treatment provides pain relief in less than one week. Cryoablation can be combined with cementoplasty, whereby small volumes of medical cement are injected through the ablation needles into the tumor and can help patients bear weight on affected bones.

For the next few weeks, our articles will focus upon how we can know Jesus is the Son of God. With the permission of Mr. Padfield, we will be using his materials. In this article Mr. Padfield noted some of the prophecies Christ fulfilled.

Jesus, The Son Of God by David Padfield

"When Jesus came into the region of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples, saying, Who do men say that I, the Son of Man, am? So they said, Some say John the Baptist, some Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets. He said to them, But who do you say that I am? And Simon Peter answered and said, You are the Christ, the Son of the living God. Jesus answered and said to him, Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but My Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 16:13-16).

Public opinion about Jesus Christ was mixed; His Divinity was unknown to many. If you had heard this lowly Galilean carpenter in the first century, would you have believed Him to be the Son of God? Before you answer that question, remember that our Lord's own "brothers did not believe Him" (John 7:1-5). If you, like Peter, were willing to admit our Lord's Deity, upon what basis would you have made your determination? What evidence would you use?

When Jesus commended Peter for his affirmation of faith, our Lord said the Father had revealed to Peter that Christ was "the Son of the living God" (Matt. 16:17). Have you ever wondered how the Father revealed this fact to Peter? There are several ways Peter could have known about the Deity of Christ. Let's look at a few of these ways.

The Prophecy He Fulfilled

The Old Testament contains well over 300 prophecies concerning the Messiah. All of these prophecies were made at least 400 years before the birth of Christ. No one else in all the world could have fulfilled these prophecies.

It appears the gospel of Matthew was primarily written to prove that in Jesus Christ of Nazareth was the fulfillment of all Messianic prophecy. Matthew often records minor events in the life of Christ and then quotes from the prophets to show that His actions were done to "fulfill" prophecy. Here are just a few examples:

- The Messiah would be born of a virgin (Isa. 7:14; fulfilled in Matt. 1:22,23)
- The Messiah would be born in Bethlehem (Micah 5:2; fulfilled in Matt. 2:5,6)
- The Messiah would be "called out of Egypt" (Hosea 11:1; fulfilled in Matt. 2:15)
- The massacre of innocent male children (Jer. 31:15; fulfilled in Matt. 1:16-18)
- The Messiah would be preceded by a messenger (Isa. 40:3; fulfilled in Matt. 3:3)
- The Messiah's work would begin in Galilee (Isa. 9:1,2; fulfilled in Matt. 4:12-16)
- The Messiah would take "our infirmities" (Isa. 53:4; fulfilled in Matt. 8:17)
- The Messiah would teach by parables (Psa. 78:2; fulfilled in Matt. 13:34-35)
- The Messiah would enter Jerusalem on a donkey (Zech. 9:9; fulfilled in Matt. 21:1-10)
- The Messiah would be sold for 30 pieces of silver (Zech. 11:12; fulfilled in Matt. 27:9)
- Lots would be cast for the Messiah's clothing (Psa. 22:18; fulfilled in Matt. 27:35)

Continued next week when we will look at the testimony of John the Baptist and how Jesus' miracles verified He was the Christ.

ROYAL STARS HOROSCOPE

BY GEORGIA NICOLS

MOON ALERT: After 5 a.m. EDT today (2 a.m. PDT) there are no restrictions to shopping or important decisions. The Moon is in Aquarius.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, June 7, 2023:

You are passionate; you are also self-disciplined. You are intelligent and intuitive. You are also charming. This is a slower-paced year -- a time to rejuvenate your energy. Focus on your needs and the kind of relationships that bring you happiness.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

2★ You are the warrior of the zodiac, which is why you have a short fuse at times. You rise to a challenge with determined zeal! Today you might be at odds with your kids, a friend or a group. What is your wisest response? Remember what your objective is. Avoid knee-jerk reactions. Tonight: Patience.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

2★ You rarely lose your temper, because when you do, it's frightening. (And you know this.) Therefore, be patient when dealing with bosses, parents and family members today, even if your patience is challenged to its limit. Use reason. Be wise and refrain from saying anything that you might later regret. Tonight: Be civil.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

3★ Arguments and power struggles, especially about controversial subjects like politics and religion or racial issues, might sway you today. But for what purpose? What will you achieve? Anger only serves to make everyone miserable, including you. Tonight: Avoid controversy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

3★ Arguments about money, possessions, loans, banking issues and shared property might arise today. However, in all likelihood, these are ego battles. Someone has to be right. Someone wants to win. But after the dust is settled, what's the result? Remain levelheaded. Tonight: Listen.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

2★ Fiery Mars is in your sign today, which makes you aggressive, because the Moon is also opposite your sign lined up with Pluto. The result is that there are a lot of intense feelings building up within you and others. You're a leader. Now is the time to role-model quiet strength. Tonight: Avoid arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

3★ Issues with co-workers, customers and anything that might be work-related could come to a head today. Many people are looking for a fight. But what's the point? What will be achieved? Remember that you are in the spotlight of the Sun. People notice you, and they admire you. Tonight: Cooperate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

3★ Avoid arguments with kids, friends and groups today. Injured feelings might arise. Meanwhile, we both know that you like and need harmony in your environment. Choose an intellectual escape, a change of scenery or a chance to travel to maintain your peace of mind. Tonight: Be gentle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

2★ Today your relations with authority figures, parents, bosses and family members, as well as partners and close friends, are on tenterhooks. People are ready to argue and challenge each other. Use your strong will and self-discipline to sidestep this. Don't get involved. Tonight: Promote peace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

3★ Avoid arguments with daily contacts, siblings, relatives and neighbors today. There's a strong likelihood these are simply ego battles where someone is trying to prove a point or win for the sake of winning. What does this accomplish? Focus on partners and close friends today for true support. Tonight: Be agreeable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan 19)

3★ Financial disputes will be challenging today. Arguments about possessions and shared responsibilities, as well as shared property, also might arise. You can find refuge in hard work today. It will feel restorative and meaningful. Tonight: Avoid money disputes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

2★ Today the Moon is in your sign lined up with Pluto sitting opposite from fiery Mars. This means you have a choice. You can use this intense energy to accomplish something. Or you can use this same intensity to end up in a nasty argument. What best promotes your happiness? Tonight: Be harmonious.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

3★ Although home and family are your primary focus, today you might have squabbles with work colleagues or something related to your health or even a pet. Don't get sidetracked by petty issues or people who want to fight. Take the high road -- the view is better. Tonight: Seek peace.

Gov. Justice announces Free Fishing Weekend to take place June 10–11

The annual event gives novice and returning anglers the opportunity to try fishing without having to buy a license.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (Hinton News) - Gov. Jim Justice announced today that West Virginia's Free Fishing Weekend will return June 10-11 and encouraged anglers and their families to plan a trip.

West Virginia's Free Fishing Weekend is part of a nationwide effort to make fishing more accessible to the public. During these two days, residents and nonresidents are able to fish for free in West Virginia's public lakes, streams and rivers without having to buy a license.

"As a lifelong angler, I know firsthand that fishing in West Virginia is one of the most joyous things you can do in this world," Justice said. "I want to encourage everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to try fishing out or to introduce someone you know to the sport we all love so much."

West Virginia's Free Fishing Weekend isn't limited to giving new anglers a chance to try the sport out. People who have fished in the past but haven't renewed their license in years are encouraged to participate.

"Whether you're a seasoned angler or a beginner, our Free Fishing Weekend is a great time to cast a line and have some fun," WVDNR Director Brett McMillion said. "We hope this event will encourage people to try fishing for the first time or to rekindle their love for the sport."

As part of Free Fishing Weekend, the WVDNR will host its annual fishing derby for kids at Little Beaver State Park on June 10. The event gives children an opportunity to receive basic fishing instruction and to enjoy time outdoors with friends and family. The event is free to attend, but anglers will need to register to participate. Registration will take place on-site from 9-10:30 a.m. on the day of the derby.

Anglers who enjoy Free Fishing Days and want to continue fishing after this weekend can purchase or renew a fishing license at WVfish.com.

For more information about fishing opportunities in West Virginia, go to WVDnr.gov/fishing.

A peek into Summers County's past: Barger Springs community

Rebecca Stalnak
and William Jones

BARGER SPRINGS, (Hinton News) - It is time for another edition of A Peek into Summers County's Past. Every week, local history collector William Jones talks about pieces from his extensive collection and their connection to the area's history. In this edition, we are talking about the community of Barger Springs.

To begin the discussion, Jones said, "This week's piece is about the little community of Barger Springs. Its name was established due to and centered around the water as so many similar 'spring towns' in southern West Virginia. Such as Pence Springs, Sweet Springs, Salt Sulphur Springs, Blue Sulphur Springs and the nationally famous Greenbrier, which is the only one still in operation today on that scale, to name a few. All of which became popular because of the belief that the water had healing properties."

About the area, Jones stated, "The progression of the railroad in this area made it easier for tourists to travel great distances to partake of the waters, which is what built up the hotels and, therefore, other businesses in these communities. Then during the 1910s through the 1920s, the automobile became increasingly more popular and affordable, which greatly helped these areas thrive with people being more freely able to travel at their discretion. WWI ending in 1918 and the economic boom that occurred in the 1920s added to the success of these resort towns."

Like so many of the natural springs in the area, the Barger Springs water was believed to have healing abilities. Particularly for certain ailments. Jones said, "Barger Springs was believed to be a natural aid in the healing of chronic kidney, liver and other complaints of that nature. Then the Great Depression hit in 1929 and lasted through 1939. Most of these resort towns and many of the small businesses that sprung up around them saw their business come crashing down, many of which virtually happened overnight. In all my years of collecting I have never seen a single artifact from Barger Springs except for these store ledger books from the store that was in Barger Springs near the hotel from around the turn of the century."

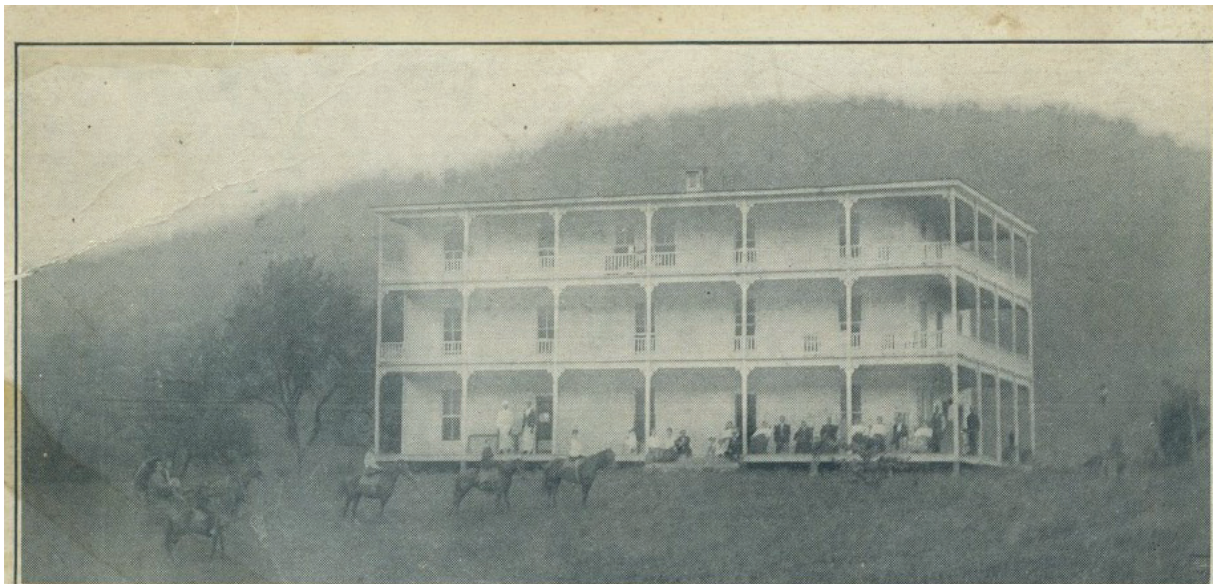

"The store's name was Bolton & Keatley. Barger Springs was operational as a resort town from 1903 to 1929, which these four ledger books essentially encompass this time frame. In doing research on this store, I came across the name Isaac Carden. Isaac was the original owner of the property and the one who first started to develop it prior to the Civil War. He built a hotel that catered to the hunters and trappers in this region. Mr. Carden also had one of the first stores in this area."

According to an article written by Shirley Donnelly in 1964, the property was originally owned by a man named Isaac Carden. Before the Civil War, there was a resort for hunters and trappers. Donnelly went on to say that ownership eventually passed to William H. Barger, whose name was "given to the resort."

Jones went on to talk about the work Carden did on the property. He said, "To further develop the property, he built a series of log cabins that profited from the influx of the hunters and trappers. Not much else is known about Mr. Carden except that he passed away in 1863. There is very little recorded history of this community until 1903, when the property was bought by a group of 30 men from Hinton, W.Va. who formed a company under the aegis of T. N. Reid, a lawyer in Hinton at that time. They divided the property into 30 lots on which they built vacation cottages."

standing on this site today other than a few of the cottages). The company later constructed the three-story hotel building called Greenbrier Springs Hotel, which you can see here in this original advertising postcard from 1905 which was very popular among visitors who came to fish, swim and numerous other outdoor activities. There were entertainment venues such as a dancing pavilion built for the guests."

In conclusion, Jones stated, "As I mentioned before, the depression hit in 1929. The hotel itself was razed shortly thereafter. And the cottages were sold off by the development company. In which many became private residences. Some of the names in these ledger books are strong early names you hear throughout Summers County histories, such as Ballengee, Hedrick, Maddy, and Mann, just to name a few. It is always interesting to read through these records during this time and compare them to today's prices. For instance, in 1907, one sack of flour was .46 cents. Perhaps the most shocking is a dozen eggs were only .33 cents at the time. Compared to today's prices for eggs, it seems un-

This brings us to the end of another edition of A Peek into Summers County's Past. Are you familiar with the Barger Springs area and its history? Be sure to come back next week for another look at the area's history.
